Attention UPSE Members: Health PEI Important Health Bargaining Information

Important Changes in Providing Your Input for Upcoming Negotiations

- In the past, Proposal forms have been mailed to all health bargaining unit members. In an effort to be more efficient and environmentally conscious, UPSE is now moving towards a paperless system for the membership.
- All pertinent information relating to the bargaining process (including important dates and your proposal form) will be available online. In the very near future, UPSE will email you a link where you can find this information and fill out your proposal form. To ensure you receive this email from UPSE, make sure your contact information is up-to-date including your preferred email address. Visit UPSE's homepage at www.peiupse.ca to update your contact information.

Click the "Update Contact Information" button on UPSE's home page (www.peiupse.ca) to update your contact info. including your email address.

- What do I do if I don't have an email address? UPSE will mail you the information (including a proposal form) if you don't have an email address. To ensure your mailing address is correct please update your contact information as explained above or call the UPSE office at 902-892-5335 or toll free at 1-800-897-8773.
- Please note that proposal forms can also be printed from UPSE's website in the "Collective Bargaining" section.
- UPSE encourages and appreciates your input in the bargaining process. Your input will be used to assist and guide the bargaining team in negotiations.

The collective agreement between Health PEI and the PEI Union of Public Sector Employees expires on March 31, 2019.
